Local and District News

Private Kenneth H. McPhee returned home from the war Monday and has since spent most of his time with his parents on their farm north of town and we have been unable to see him since. "Ken" is another young soldier Gleichen is very proud of. He wears a military medal and was wounded.

Monday next—March 31st—the Citizens Band will play at the Opera House when Wm. Fox presents Theda Bara in the mystic drama "The Soul of Buddha". The play is Miss Bara's very own—for she conceived the story, wrote it, and acts the leading roll. You must see it.

Miss Dalgleish of Woodville, Ont., and Mr. R. Dalgleish of Bridge-water, N.S., arrived in town last Saturday to visit their niece, Mrs. Geo. W. Evans.

N. T. Purcell, the new proprietor of the Palm Parlors, has made a many changes in this popular resort and will have something important to say in next issue.

J. J. Marshall, Dominion stock yard inspector, paid Gleichen an official visit last Friday and met many of his old friends.

Owing to the copy for a number of advertisements arriving late we are obliged to leave over several columns of reading matter and advertisements until next issue. Had we known of these advertisements early we could have printed an extra page, which would have been more satisfactory to all concerned. This is the reason we continually urge advertisers to send in their copy early. Since Tuesday we have had to handle five columns of ads. and have still on hand about three that must be held over. To be rushed in this manner allows little time to devote to our news columns and it is impossible to hire more printers at any price.

Agricultural School Located at Gleichen Town

Twelve years ago next August 6th E. H. Riley, then M.L.A. for the Gleichen constituency, opened the campaign to secure an agricultural college for Gleichen by writing a letter to then Premier Rutherford, which was published in The Call of August 15, 1907. From that on the people of this town and district, with their various members, never ceased working, with the final result as is indicated in the telegram adjoining, which arrived too late for the last issue of The Call:

Edmonton, Alberta, March 19, 1919

W. P. Evans,
Gleichen, Alberta.

The Minister of Agriculture announced this afternoon that School of Agriculture will be built at Gleichen town this year.

J. P. McArthur.

To Mr. McArthur belongs the greatest credit in the securing of this boon for Gleichen as he worked faithfully for it during his two terms and promised we would have it during the last election and though defeated still continued to work for it. His brother, whom he succeeded as member for this riding, also worked hard to land this school up to the time of his death. Mr. Davis, our present member, during the short time since his election has been also working for the same object, so that in this case we can at least claim "merit wins", for both political parties worked to land the school in Gleichen—and now it is even said the Non-Partisan League claims a share in "we killed the bear".

However, it has been decided that the agricultural school will be in Gleichen town and that this year, which no doubt means that it will be ready for opening in time for the autumn term.

Already the site has been selected adjoining the Agricultural Association's fair grounds on the north, and Mr. Robert Landells, who owned the farm, has received his cheque in payment thereof, which it is said brought a very good price.

The reasons the Government give for locating the agricultural school at Gleichen are the very excellent reasons that they will have later for locating the college here. Namely, that dry farming and irrigated farming can be best demonstrated here, Gleichen being the centre of the greatest irrigation project on the continent of America. Another good reason advanced by the Government for locating the school here is that the attendance of Gleichen pupils at the schools already established was much better than from other constituencies.

While every person in this constituency will be pleased to have the school located conveniently in this riding it is a special advantage to Gleichen town that is highly appreciated. It means the advantages enjoyed by this town are recognized by the Government, that upwards of 350 people will attend the school for months each year, that many of their parents will want to make this their home, that more houses will have to be erected to accommodate the pupils, that there will be more business for every person, and that the teaching staff will be a most desirable addition to our town socially and in many other ways. Also it will bring hundreds of visitors to our town from all parts, particularly those interested in irrigation. In this we can depend the C. P. R. will assist materially as they helped us in securing the location of the school. It will be a great advantage to that company to show the thousands of people they deal with that our Government is demonstrating the usefulness of a project the company has spent millions of dollars on.

The Gleichen Agricultural School—that looks good in type—will be for the purpose of assisting young men in stock judging, feeding and management. Competent men will also take up matters pertaining to soils, and the various crops that may be grown successfully in Southern Alberta by dry farming and with irrigation. In addition to this, a very practical course in blacksmithing and carpentry work will be given. Everything that will be taught will have as a direct object the giving of assistance to the young men in the very practical things pertaining to an ordinary farm. There will also be a domestic science course given for young ladies, which is not designed to teach young ladies how to do fancy cooking, but the purpose is to teach young ladies how to handle the ordinary home, so as to make the home table as bright and wholesome as possible. As the school will be under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture of the province it will, of course, be free, with the exception of the board and a few incidentals that may be necessary in connection with the course. These courses last from five to six months and give the young men a thorough and practical knowledge of farm work.

IN MEMORIAM

James Young passed away at Calgary Wednesday evening of last week, March 19, after an illness of some months, due to heart trouble.

He came to Gleichen about three years ago from Perthshire, Scotland, to take up farming and to be near his son James and other members of his family. Here he made friends all whom he came in contact with, being a very kind gentleman and exceptionally active for a man 75 years.

He is survived by his widow, and three daughters and three sons, to whom the deepest sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

His wife and two daughters now reside in Calgary, while the third daughter, Mrs. F. Dakers, is in Scotland. It will be remembered she left here to marry Capt. Dakers, who lost his life a few months after their marriage by the sinking of his ship.

Of his sons James resides at Gleichen, W. J. at Cayley and Alex. in New Zealand.

The funeral took place from the chapel of Graham, McCall & Ruttie on Friday afternoon, after which interment was made in the Union cemetery, the Rev. Mr. Wilson of Knox church conducting the services.

The pall bearers were Messrs. B. Ramsbottom, J. C. Morton, W. H. James, J. W. Durno, A. Alston and W. D. McLellan.

Among the many others who attended were Messrs. E. W. Wade, A. McLean, B. Davidson, J. B. Leggat, A. McHugh, W. P. Evans, W. McHugh, Captain McIver and Lieut. Forbes.

Memorials to Our Soldiers

A subject which is engaging the attention of the people of Canada, whether they be resident in a metropolitan city or in the smallest hamlet, is the manner in which they can best and most appropriately commemorate the memory of their fellow Canadian citizens who, in the service of their country and Empire, gave their lives in the Great War. There is no difference of opinion that some fitting memorial should be erected in each centre of population in this Dominion, large or small. There is also unanimity of opinion that in every instance the memorial should be just as fine as it is within the capabilities of the people to provide. The only question is what form these memorials should take.

Recalling the magnificent memorial monuments, shafts, statues, arches, fountains, museums, and other structures to be found on every hand throughout the countries of the Old World, one realizes that in this new country of Western Canada there is a sad lack of these artistic and inspiring structures. Of course our history has been brief, and but as a passing moment in the life of a nation. We have, of necessity, been obliged to confine attention very largely to the provision of the more practical and utilitarian needs of our pioneer condition. But the time has now arrived when it becomes our duty to commemorate in some permanent manner the glorious memory of our soldiers, and to do so in such a way as to provide a source of inspiration for all future generations of Canadians.

In some sections of the Dominion there appears to be a tendency to exploit this universal desire to provide fitting memorials to our soldiers by erecting some building or institution which is a need of the community in any event. This is not the right spirit, and it should be discouraged. No attempt should be made to capitalize public sympathy with the idea of a memorial in order to provide some service which sooner or later would have to be provided in the public interest. Whatever form the memorial may take, it should be provided because it is a memorial, and not because of any other motive.

Each community will, of course, decide for itself the form and character of the memorial to its own fallen heroes. In some places it has been suggested that this should take the form of an endowment fund for the better education of the children of the poorer people, and thus give them an equal opportunity with the children of the more well-to-do. The establishment of orphanages, hospitals and other philanthropic institutions is urged in other places. In some of the smaller communities the erection of a simple tablet or monument is advocated, while in larger centres a lofty shaft or stately monument or magnificent arch is felt to be most suitable.

The character of the memorial, important as it may be, is, after all, not the most important consideration. What is important is the spirit animating the people in providing the memorial, and the lasting effect it will have on the life of the community.

CUTICURA

Heals Skin Trouble With One Cake Soap and Two Boxes Ointment.

Terrible itching on back of neck. After three weeks got flaky and became sore. Was red and scratching caused sleepless nights. Got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Itching not so bad after using them. Now healed. From signed statement of Mrs. William Quigley, Windsor, N. S.

If Cuticura did no more than soothe and heal eczemas, rashes, itching and burnings, bringing speedy comfort to tortured, disfigured men, women and children it would be entitled to the highest praise. But it does more. By using the Soap exclusively for toilet purposes, allowing no other soap to touch your skin, you will in many cases prevent these distressing experiences. munity. It would, for example, serve but a poor purpose to erect a monument which, poorly designed and crudely executed, would be a constant cause of irritation to the beholder, or, having erected a suitable and artistic monument, to leave it in a state of neglect throughout the years uncarved for amid unkempt grounds and surroundings.

It is not the object of this article to suggest any particular form or forms of memorials to our Canadian soldiers, but rather to lay emphasis upon the desirability of the most thoughtful consideration being given by the men and women in every community to the provision of a memorial of the character best calculated to impress, influence and inspire the children of present and future generations; to inculcate in them a fervent love of country; to develop in their very souls a readiness to make sacrifices and render service to their country and fellowmen, and to keep ever before them the glorious example of the men of 1914-18 who counted no sacrifice too great that liberty might be maintained and civilization live and flourish throughout the world.

Our soldiers have left a priceless heritage to the nation which should be accorded a lasting commemoration and ever remain a beacon light throughout the ages to come.

DO YOU WANT PINK CHEEKS?

They Can Be Had by Keeping the Blood Rich, Red and Pure

Every woman—every girl—wants pink cheeks. They mean not only beauty but good health. When a woman's blood is scanty or anaemic, her color fades; she looks debilitated, is short of breath and her heart palpitates after slight exertion. Sometimes this trouble is accompanied by severe headaches, or pains in the back or sides. This condition is entirely due to weak, watery blood, and can only be cured by making the blood rich, red and pure. For this purpose there is nothing can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which act directly upon the blood, and in this way bring new health and strength to weak, ailing people. Mrs. Anderson, Hearst, Ont., says: "Before coming to Canada from England, I was a sufferer from anaemia for upwards of a year. I had been gradually getting paler and weaker. I did not realize that I was sick, but felt constantly tired and worn out. I had no ambition for anything, and grew so white that my brothers used to call me 'snowball.' At this stage my mother decided that she would get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are a favorite medicine in England as well as in Canada. On the day I commenced taking them I fainted on getting out of bed, and mother urged me to stay in bed for a few days. I really felt so weak that I was glad to take her advice. I looked more like a corpse than a living person. I remained in bed for a week, taking the pills regularly, and then I felt that I was able to get up, though not able to go about. From that on, however, I gained strength daily, and in a little more than a month I was feeling as well as ever I did. The color returned to my cheeks and lips, and my friends were all surprised at my rapid recovery. I took no medicine but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so that they deserve all the credit for my restoration to health."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Huns Restore Art Treasure

Pictures Stolen From Lille Have Been Returned

Paris. — Art treasures taken from occupied France by the Germans and removed to Brussels are gradually being restored to the original owners. The Temps reports that three carloads of pictures stolen from the museum at Lille have just been returned and two carloads taken from the region of Laon have been sent back.

Among the ten carloads unloaded at Valenciennes were many rare and precious manuscripts and archives of the French government, the belfry taken from the Guild Hall at Cambrai and furniture belonging to the Prince of Monaco, the Marquis of Havincourt and other persons.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night, and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over. I had hot flushes and fainting spells."

When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their hearts."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

War Cost 197 Billions

Total Deaths in All Armies Reached 9,000,000

San Francisco. — "The cost of the war in money alone was $197,000,000,000 or $111,000,000,000 more than the total property value of all North America," Secretary of War Baker told a gathering at the commercial club here, following his arrival with General March, chief of staff, to inspect army posts.

"The deaths from wounds in battle numbered 7,300,000 and the total deaths in all the armies reached 9,000,000," he said.

Referring to the proposed league of nations, Secretary Baker said:

"Unless such an organization was formed, under some name and under some constitution, anarchy bred by disease, hunger and despair would overwhelm the earth."

"No child born in a civilized nation in the next hundred years will escape paying a considerable portion of the debt this war has brought about."

May Imitate Suffragettes

Sinn Fein Party Contemplates Similar Campaign

London. — The more aggressive section of the Sinn Fein party in Ireland contemplates a campaign similar to that adopted by the militant suffragettes.

At the moment it is hoped to have the peace conference intervene in behalf of Ireland. This will be for the purpose of focussing public attention on the demands of the party, according to dispatches received by the Press Association.

The authorities, however, are prepared to afford adequate protection to life and property, and the belief is expressed that with tact and determination it will be able to tide over the threatened trouble.

It is understood the government does not intend further to postpone consideration of the home rule bill which was suspended by an act which automatically expires six months after the treaty of peace is signed.

The Beauty of a Clear Skin.—The condition of the liver regulates the condition of the blood. A disordered liver causes impurities in the blood and these show themselves in blemishes on the skin. Parnelee's Vegetable Pills in acting upon the liver act upon the blood and a clear, healthy skin will follow intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies, who will fully appreciate this prime quality of these pills, can use them with the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

Troubles in Odessa

London. — Official reports received in London are to the effect that a critical state of affairs exists in Odessa, the chief Russian port on the Black sea.

No confirmation could be obtained in London to rumors that Odessa was being evacuated by allied forces, but the report is not denied.

"Nothing is certain," as the fisherman said when he found it on his hook.

Latest French Idea

Paris. — In France dueling has never become extinct and even the war seems not to have eradicated this traditional method of settling arguments between gentlemen. But the war has changed the weapons. Instead of pistols it is machine guns mounted on airplanes, which according to the present indications, will hereafter be called upon to settle affairs of honor.

Flight Across Rockies

To Demonstrate Practicability of an Aerial Mail Service

Vancouver, B.C. — The Vancouver World announces that, in co-operation with the Aerial League of Canada, it is promoting an aerial flight across the Rocky Mountains. The plans include a flight from Vancouver to Calgary by way of the Crow's Nest Pass, then to Edmonton and home-ward by way of the Yellowhead Pass and Kamloops, with a preliminary flight to Victoria and return. It is stated that only Canadian and British airmen are eligible to compete, using machines of Canadian or British make.

The flight is to be under control of a committee of the Aerial League and the World, and trophies and a purse will be awarded. The flight is to demonstrate "the practicability and reliability of an aerial mail service," but the element of competition may be introduced if more than one machine is available. The flight is to take place as soon as machines can be procured from England.

Says Empire Will Be Resurrected

Ruling Classes of Germany Hopeful of Retaining Power

Paris. — The German empire will be resurrected more rapidly than most people think, Dr. Richard von Kuchlman, former German foreign minister, declares in a letter quoted by Echo De Paris.

According to the letter, von Kuchlman says that the former ruling classes of Germany are still hopeful of retaining power.

The letter says that events are moving as the writer anticipated earlier in the year, when he wrote that Marshal Foch had sheathed the sword and it would not be necessary for Germany to fear France longer.

Under favorable conditions, von Kuchlman is quoted as saying, the Germans will be in Paris before 1925.

In view of the great development in the livestock industry in northern Saskatchewan this year, American breeders of prize cattle will invade the province during the coming summer and will show stock at the Saskatchewan industrial exhibition, July 14-19.

Amerongen. — Considerable excitement was created at Amerongen castle, where former Emperor William is staying, when six airplanes appeared suddenly from behind a bank of clouds. They came from the east and after circling the castle twice, disappeared in a northerly direction. The nationality of the machines could not be distinguished owing to the overcast weather, but it is generally assumed that they were Dutch.

Championships

Many Prizes Have Been Won By Shorthorns

Shorthorns did well at the Ontario provincial winter fair and at West Toronto. At Guelph, the grand champion and reserve grand champion steers were both Shorthorns, while at West Toronto the single steer grand champion and the grand champion for three steers any weight, were both won by Shorthorns. A Shorthorn calf also won out in the boy's steer feeding competition. T. A. Russell, Downsview, carried off the three grand championships at these two shows, and all friends of the breed will extend congratulations. — G. E. Day, Sec. Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Ass'n.

"It Freed Me of Headaches"

This Is What Many Thousands of People Write About Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—Not Mere Relief, But Lasting Cure

Chauvin, Alta., April 1. — When the human system gets run down, the blood thin and the nerves exhausted, one of the most constant and distressing symptoms is headache. There is always a temptation to use strong drugs to ease the pain, but such relief is only temporary, and is obtained at enormous expense to the nervous system, and the headaches return with increased violence.

Real cure is only obtained when the vigor of the nervous system is restored by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. Rene Page, Chauvin, Alta., writes:

"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, with splendid results. Some little time ago I seemed to lose my appetite, and suffered from frequent headaches. A treatment for the Nerve Food soon put me on my feet again. It helped my appetite, freed me from headaches, and restored my health. I feel like a new man now and think Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the greatest remedy ever known. I also have to thank Dr. Chase's Ointment for a speedy cure of barber's itch. I have used it for pimples and burns, too."

Certified to by Leger E. Roy, J.P., Chauvin, Alta.

Mrs. C. H. Christoffer, Greenbrier, Sask., writes:

"It is a pleasure to me to write you in praise of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I suffered for over twenty years from rheumatism, neuralgia, violent headaches and palpitation of the heart. My back ached, I could not sleep, and was always tired and nervous. I had taken a great many medicines of one kind and another, but never got anything to help me until I used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This did me more good than all the medicines I ever took, and I cannot say enough in praise of it."

This letter is endorsed by Mr. J. C. Bleich, Postmaster at Greenbrier, Sask.

Britain's Powerful Warship

H.M.S. Hood Will Be Mine and Torpedo Proof

London. — Details of the biggest and most powerful warship which is being built on the Clyde for the British navy can now be told. The ship is His Majesty's Ship Hood, whose designed speed, the representative of the London Daily News learns on official authority, will be thirty-two knots, and which may be increased during her trials to 35 knots.

Details of the vessel hitherto have been secret. She is a battle cruiser, and her length will be 900, or only one foot less than the Aquitania, the largest of the British liners. The Hood is expected to be in commission within six months. Since the keel was laid down several striking innovations in naval shipbuilding have been made, chiefly as the result of the lessons learned by the experts during 1918, and these have necessitated alterations in the ship's internal arrangements.

She will be mine and torpedo proof, her hull being surrounded by a "blister" or outer cushion, and there will be steel armored walls inside the vessel which will be an additional safeguard.

British Aviators

Ready for Trip

Have Secret Machine to Make Journey Across Atlantic

London. — British aviators are to try for a flight across the Atlantic. A secretly built airplane, accompanied by Harry Hawker, as pilot, and Commander Grave, royal navy, as navigator, was shipped from England for St. John's, Newfoundland, from which place it will start at the earliest possible moment, in an attempt to win the Daily Mail prize of £10,000 for the first machine to fly across the Atlantic.

The machine is a Sopwith two-seater biplane with a 375 horsepower engine. The fuselage is boat-shaped and will support the machine in the water.

Pilot Hawker said he believed that the flight would occupy about 19½ hours. The machine, he added, had flown 900 miles in nine hours and five minutes on one-third of its petrol capacity and is capable of maintaining a speed of 100 miles an hour for twenty-five hours.

Harry G. Hawker won the British Michelin prize for 1912 by a flight of eight hours and twenty-three minutes. He has had many long distance flights along the British coast. He established a world's altitude record of 28,500 feet in 1916.

Newfoundland lies nearer to Europe than any other part of North America, the distance being about 1,900 miles.

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is distinctly different from other so-called remedies. No Bread in the Caucasus

New York. — Thousands of men, women and children are starving to death in the Caucasus, according to the first report from Dr. James L. Barton, chairman of the commission recently sent to that region by the United States.

"There is no bread anywhere," says the report, "the government has not a pound. There are 45,000 people in Erivan wholly without bread, and the orphanages and troops all throughout Erivan are in a terrible condition."

Dancing Prohibited

London. — According to a German wireless dispatch received here, there has been no important changes in the situation in Berlin. A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Copenhagen says that on demand of the Majority Socialists, a prohibition against dancing has been issued in Berlin. The dispatch adds that during the week while women and children were being murdered, dancing in fancy dress was going on in the streets.

That Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Her

Quebec Postmistress Suffered for Four Years But Her Pain Vanished Before A Short Treatment of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

L'Anse a Brilliant, Gaspe Co., Quebec, March 24th. (Special). — Mrs. Geo. Briand, the Postmistress here, is a sworn friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills. And like a host of others she has a reason.

"I had a pain in my left side for four years," Mrs. Briand says in giving that reason. "It never left me for one single instant."

"But after using two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, with two of Diamond Dinner Pills, the pain ceased, and in over a year now it has never come back."

"I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to the patrons of this P.O., for I keep the post office here, as the best medicine I have ever used."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure all. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They are credited with cures of sore back, rheumatism, lumbago, heart disease, diabetes, and Bright's disease. The reason for this is that all these troubles sprang from diseased kidneys.

Dodd's Kidney Pills acting directly on the kidneys, put those organs in condition to do their full work of clearing the impurities out of the blood and the diseases vanished with the impurities.

Irish Appeal to King George

London. — A petition has been submitted to King George, signed by a number of Irish officers who served in the British army during the war, praying that Irish home rule be submitted to the peace conference.

HE'LL like the self-stopping razor that gives him a fresh, keen edge each day; he'll welcome the simplicity that enables him to clean his AutoStop Razor without taking it apart; most of all he'll be glad of the military-like efficiency with which the AutoStop Razor goes "over the top" and removes the toughest "barbed-wire" beard without the slightest "pull" or irritation.

Lloyd George Faces Critical Situation

Paris. — La Homme Libre, discussing the appeal of President Wilson, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Orlando to Premier Lloyd George, that he remain in Paris until the chief questions connected with peace should be settled, emphasizes that the critical situation in Great Britain arising from labor troubles which the British premier is facing, is sufficient to explain his impatience to return to London. The newspaper adds that Lloyd George is confronted to a greater extent than any other government head with the duty of establishing peace and serving the interests of the working classes.

"On the morrow of the great European conflict and the eve of a new era, which imperatively demand close national unity," L'Homme Libre says, "Great Britain is in the throes of internal dissensions. Mr. Lloyd George is as anxious to conclude peace rapidly as he is to preserve concord among the people of Great Britain. Both of these aims are inseparably linked."

Would Like Blockade Raised

Is of No Value to British Government

London. — In the house of commons Sir Frederick Banbury, privy councillor, warned the government that a continuance of the present financial methods meant, eventually, national bankruptcy. Other speakers complained that control of exports permitted the United States to step in and capture British trade abroad. J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, replying to criticisms, said that the government was trying to abolish control as quickly as was safe. The export of cotton goods was free to every part of the world, except the blockade countries, he declared, and in this case restrictions were maintained for reasons of inter-allied policy. The house, he believed, would hardly assume responsibility for acting in opposition to Great Britain's allies.

Mr. Chamberlain said he was advised that it was not a fact that Americans were sending goods where British goods were not admitted. What the United States had done was to book orders and give long credits for goods to be delivered when the blockade was raised. It was open to British manufacturers to do the same.

The sooner the blockade could be raised, he said, the better the government would be pleased, and it would gratify the government if Germany could draw some of her supply through neutral countries.

First Division Sails in April

Ottawa. — The militia department is in receipt of advice by cable that the movement of the first division is already under way. The 14th battalion and the headquarters of the 2nd brigade arrived in England on the 17th instant, and troops of the first division are being moved to England at the rate of 1,000 a day. It is expected that embarkation of this division for Canada will begin during the first week in April.

Paris. — The Hungarian government has refused to obey the entente's demand for the surrender of merchant shipping, according to a Budapest despatch to the Journal des Debats. The Hungarians take the ground that acquiescence would mean the end of the Danube traffic.

Force Along Rhine Must Be Retained

London. — During debate in committee of the house of commons on the military service bill, Winston Spencer Churchill, minister of war, opposing the amendments limiting the operation of the bill to December 31, 1919, instead of April 30, 1920, emphasized the fact that the British regular army had virtually disappeared and that it was necessary to keep men whom the bill retained with the colors for overseas garrisons.

Mr. Churchill said he had every hope, however, that the British foreign establishment would be on a voluntary basis before the end of the year.

The army of occupation, he added, was on a different plane and could not depend on voluntary recruiting. It was impossible, he said, to assert how long it would be necessary to have a British army on the Rhine in

Ships Sail for Food

London. — Eight German steamers, including the Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, Cleveland, Graf Waldersee and Pretoria, sailed from Hamburg for foodstuffs, according to advices from Berlin. It is said that the crews of the ships made a formal demand that they should not be removed from the vessels during the trip.

Discontent in Germany

Confidence in Government Is Being Rapidly Undermined

Paris. — A dispatch from the U.S. legation at Copenhagen, dated Mar. 11, and addressed to the American commission to negotiate peace, tells of the situation in Berlin in part as follows:

"The American military attaché's agent has reported that the strikes which took place recently, were primarily due to lack of work and food but also partly to discontent brought about by delay by the government in socialistic action."

"The agent said that reports of bloodshed in Berlin were exaggerated. Hope of assistance from the allies and the United States is dwindling. The result is reaction. Confidence in the government at present is being undermined rapidly, and there is a tendency on the part of the people more and more to drift toward the left."

The military attaché's agent made the statement that a further revolution, which would result in the present government's downfall, will result unless there is a betterment of food deficiencies and industrial conditions within six weeks at the latest. Only the immediate shipment of raw materials and food to Germany, with the assurance that more will follow, will save the situation and prevent revolution and disaster, the extent of which it is impossible to foresee."

Fatal Riots at Cairo

Government Warns People Against Interfering With Utilities

London. — In the recent fighting at Cairo, Egypt, which was said to be due to the nationalist agitation, six persons were killed and 31 others wounded, according to a Cairo dispatch.

At Tanta on the Nile, 75 miles above Alexandria, where rioting also occurred, there were 11 killed and 51 wounded.

The message, which was filed on March 13, stated that order had been restored, and that the troops were able to cope with the situation. The government had warned all persons to refrain from interfering with the railways or telegraphs or telephone under penalty of being shot under martial law.

Visitors to Germany Require Permit

Berlin. — Because of the great number of military and civil entente missions which have visited Germany since November, the German cabinet has decided, according to the Kreuz Zeitung, that no persons from an allied country will henceforth be permitted to travel in Germany without special permission from the armistice commission.

Death of Hon. W. J. Hanna

Late Food Controller and Standard Oil Man Died in Augusta, Ga.

Toronto. — News has been received here that the Hon. W. J. Hanna, head of the Canadian end of the Standard Oil company, former food controller for Canada, and one time provincial secretary of Ontario, has died in Augusta, Georgia. He went there accompanied by his physician some time ago. Death followed a stroke.

William John Hanna was born of Irish origin in Adelaide township, Middlesex county, Ont., in October, 1862. He was admitted to the bar in 1890, became a King's counsel in 1908, and was early known as a very successful company or corporation lawyer. He unsuccessfully contested West Lambton, Ont., for the house of commons in 1900, but was elected to the Ontario legislature for the same constituency in 1902, and represented it in the local house till 1916 when he resigned his seat. He was provincial secretary from 1905 to 1916.

In 1916, Mr. Hanna was appointed food controller for the Dominion which position he held for about a year when he resigned to become the president of the Imperial Oil companies, the Canadian end of the Standard Oil concern, with which he had long been identified. Mr. Hanna was a Methodist and a Conservative. He married first Miss Jean Neil, and secondly, Miss Maud McAdams, who survives. Their only son was killed accidentally in Italy a few days after the signing of the armistice. He was a member of the Royal Air Force.

Borden May Be Ambassador

Paris. — Reuter's Limited, understands that the offer of the British ambassadorship at Washington to Sir Robert Borden, the Canadian premier, is still open. Sir Robert has not yet made a decision, but it is said it is by no means improbable that he will accept.

Polish Situation Pitiful

Lemberg Defended by Women, Children and Boy Scouts

Chicago. — In a letter received by John F. Smulski, president of the National Polish department, Madame Paderewski, wife of the pianist and premier of Poland, described conditions in Poland as "pitiful," and said the Polish army was "hungry and without clothes in zero weather, and lacked arms. The letter was dated January 28.

The city of Lemberg was without light, water, food, arms or ammunition, but was constantly bombarded, Mme. Paderewski wrote. "It is defended by women, children and boy scouts," she added, and declared, "our enemies commit the most horrible atrocities."

"Some of the women taken prisoners were impaled on pickets," she wrote. "So were also six nuns who were then removed and hurled in a heap and left to die slowly. Boy scouts were taken and tied together, three or four at a time, with barbed wire and then buried alive."

Continuing, the premier's wife asserted the Bolsheviks were burning, beheading or freezing Poles to death along the border; in Cieszyn the Czechs were killing and hanging, and "the German army is advancing on Posen. We are in a trap. I must hold my heart with both hands for fear it will burst with pain," the letter concluded.

Invite British Fleet

Washington. — Navy department officials state that Secretary Daniels during his trip abroad probably would invite the British fleet to New York for a visit during the coming summer.

Such an invitation was extended informally by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt when he was in England just before the signing of the armistice.

German Parties Disagree

Independents Make Demand for Relaxation of Government Rule

Berlin. — That the majority and independent socialist parties are irreconcilably split, is the common expression in political circles resulting from a speech by Wolfgang Heine, in the Prussian diet, made in reply to the demand of the independents for a repeal of martial law in Berlin.

Following closely upon Minister of Defence Noske's castigation of the independents at Weimar, Herr Heine who is Prussian minister of justice, and one of the majority leaders, presented a scathing indictment of the faction of Hugo Haase, the independent leader, in which he reviewed the intimate co-operation existing between the independent and the Spartacists from the first day of the revolution.

Herr Heine told the independents that they were more concerned about Russia than about the welfare of Germany and said that it was not the Russian steam roller that brought about Germany's defeat, but Bolshevik infection and corruption paid with stolen Russian funds.

Herr Heine also held the independents responsible for the Spartan activities of the fugitive police head, Eichhorn, and for the lawlessness of George Ledebour's marines, and charged that they precipitated the recent general strike without the slightest justification.

U.S. Senator Asked to Resign

Jefferson City, Mo. — James A. Reed, United States senator from Missouri was called upon to resign his seat in the senate in resolutions adopted here by a conference of fifty of the sixty-seven democratic members of the house.

The action was taken, conference leaders announced, as a result of Senator Reed's address to the legislature in which he attacked the proposed league of nations.

Hun War Indemnity Has Been Reduced

Offered Baltic Crown

Washington. — Arrival of a British squadron at Libau with a British commission, having military and political power to open relations with the Lithuanian government was announced in official despatches quoting the Lithuanian press bureau. Prince Adolf Friedrich of Mecklenburg, is reported to have been offered the Baltic royal crown.

Defends Ex-Kaiser

Von Hindenburg Makes Excuses for Flight Into Holland

Berlin. — Aroused by recent criticisms of former Emperor William regarding his flight from Germany to Holland last fall, Field Marshal von Hindenburg has prepared and published here a defence of the ex-ruler's action.

After depicting the situation as it existed in November, caused by the weakening of the army, the doubtful reliability of the forces in the field, and the breaking out of the revolution at home, the field marshal writes: "The peaceful return home of the emperor then became impossible. It could only have been carried out through the forceful employment of loyal troops and civil war would have been added to the hostilities with the enemy."

"The emperor could have betaken himself to the fighting troops in order to meet death at their head in a last attack on the enemy, but the armistice so keenly desired by the people would thereby have been postponed and the lives of many soldiers uselessly sacrificed. The emperor finally, in agreement with his advisors, and after a severe mental struggle, decided to leave the country, solely in the hope that he could thereby best serve the fatherland, save Germany from further losses, distress and misery, and restore peace and order to Germany."

Mounted Police at Swift Current

Swift Current, Sask. — Swift Current is to be headquarters for a division of the reorganized Royal North West Mounted Police force. The local detachment will be in charge of Staff-Sergeant Baxter, an officer well and favorably known in this section, where he had served with the Mounties for several years previous to going overseas. Sergt. Baxter is at present in the city, awaiting instructions, having just arrived from France. The strength of the force to be stationed here has not yet been given out.

Liquor Men to Test Prohibition

New York. — The committee of distillers of the United States, representing the entire distilling industry, announced that steps were being taken to attack the constitutionality of the federal prohibition amendment and the war time prohibition act.

Depopulated Reims

Paris. — The population of Reims, which was 117,178 before the war, is now 8,453, according to a census just completed by the government. Of this number 3,987 are men, 3,253 women and 1,813 children. Five hundred children attend school in the ruined city.

Paris. — David Lloyd George, the British prime minister; M. Clemenceau, the French premier and President Wilson are holding a series of meetings for the adjustment of differences between them.

The differences constitute some of the larger questions pending now—reparations for war losses and the Franco-German frontier. These questions, for the moment, have assumed paramount importance, taking place even ahead of the league of nations, for while the work of the commission revising the covenant is proceeding rapidly, much difficulty is being met in reaching agreements in reparation and frontiers.

The chief issue of the question on reparations is not what Germany should pay, but what she can pay. The commissions have studied the subject, having gradually reduced the claims to a total of about $40,000,000,000.

Premier Lloyd George told the British journalists that he had decided to remain in Paris until the peace treaty was signed. He expressed the opinion that one of the reasons for the present labor difficulties in England was the fact that the treaty had not been completed, which led to a feeling of disquiet in the country. He said he was "unable to imagine that Labor leaders would resort to force at the present moment."

Col. E. M. House, of the United States delegation to the peace conference, told British newspapermen that he was convinced that the peace treaty, including the league of nations covenant, would be ready for signature on March 29, and added that he would be "disappointed if the Germans were not at Versailles three weeks hence."

Famous Battalion Disbanded

Men of Princess Patricia's Have Received Discharge

Ottawa. — The famous Princess Patricia's Canadian light infantry, Canadian expeditionary force, is no more. Demobilization has been completed, the last man being discharged and the unit disbanded. It is considered the demobilization constitutes a record for speed.

There was a touching scene as Lieut. Col. A. Hamilton Gault, organizer of the unit, bade the men farewell.

Many of the men have left for their homes, those living at a distance being provided with first class sleeper accommodation and tickets, in addition to generous allowance for meals en route. Toronto and western men were among those who have left.

Bolsheviks are Mobbed

Washington. — Dispatches received at the state department from Sweden, said social revolutionists in Petrograd and Moscow had been active against the Bolsheviks, and that rioting in the streets had occurred.

A Bolshevik commissioner who attempted to address one meeting of social revolutionists was mobbed.

According to these advices, all roads leading into Petrograd were closed to passenger traffic on March 15.

Allenby in Paris

Paris. — Gen. F. H. Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine, has arrived here from Egypt to advise the supreme council on near eastern questions.

GET AFTER THOSE DOLLARS

Our town should get all of the trade in our trade area. We can't worry about our neighboring town's business. We have enough to do to take care of our own. But we should get all of our own. How about these dollars that are getting away from us? How about the dollars that are slipping through our fingers? We have the goods. We have the values. Our prices are right. And yet there is a lot of money slipping away from us constantly. The best way to get after this money is to tell the truth about the man or the system that is taking it away. Join the Trade-at-Home campaign.

Prefer to Become Outlaws

Hun President Says Unjust Peace Cannot Be Signed

Berlin. — "Germany is prepared to sign peace but is not prepared to commit harikari." The Falstaffian figure of Fritz Ebert, president of the new German republic, straightened in the chair and with a sonorous voice he continued: "If the peace terms mean suicide they will not be signed. Rather than political and economical death Germany will choose political and economical madness. If the entente offers us instead of a peace based on Mr. Wilson's fourteen points only a knife with which to commit harikari Germany goes Bolshevik, Germany joins the Russian soviet republic and Germany becomes an outlaw nation."

Referendum in Luxembourg

London. — The Luxembourg chamber of deputies passed a bill on March 18 by a vote of 30 to 20, calling for a plebiscite to decide whether the present dynasty will be maintained, a new dynasty created or a republic established, according to dispatches received here.

Officials Incompetent

Soldiers at Rhyll Camp Not Blamed For Revolt

Halifax. — Lieut.-Col. Pratt, O.C. the 133rd battalion and member of the Ontario legislature for Norfolk County, who returned to Canada on the Celtic, in an interview published in the Daily Echo, attributes the unrest of Canadian soldiers in Rhyll camp to the incompetency and unpreparedness of the department of militia, which, judging by results at the time the armistice was signed he said, was absolutely without any plan for the repatriation of Canadian soldiers.

"Argyll House is full of incompetents and dubs," said Lieut.-Col. Pratt. "There are many officers there who have wrangled their way through the war praying to God that the war would last another year so that they would be able to hang on to their jobs."

"I have spoken to 102 officers on board the Celtic and every one of them has told me that they do not blame the soldiers at Rhyll camp for the action they had taken."

Must Suspend Hostilities

Paris. — Marshal Foch and other generals were called in during a prolonged session of the supreme council to give their advice as to action which should be taken in Galicia, where Ukrainian forces are besieging Lemberg, which is threatened from three sides. It was decided that a sharp warning should be sent to both sides asking for a suspension of hostilities. The warning will take the form of an injunction to the two armies.

Restrict Liquor in West Africa

London. — The government has prohibited the importation of all spirits into the British West African colonies, except under license, which will not be granted for the importation of so-called "trade spirits." It was announced. This decision was taken as a preliminary measure, pending decision on the question of the permanent prohibition of the spirit trade in West Africa.

Japanese Would Assert Their Rights

Paris. — A Japanese amendment to the covenant of the league of nations, providing that the contracting parties should agree to grant "equal and just treatment" to all aliens within their borders who are nationals of states that are members of the league, will be submitted to the supreme council, it is learned by Reuter's from Japanese sources.

The standpoint of the Japanese is that all citizens of nations deemed sufficiently advanced to become members of the league should have equal rights when travelling or living in foreign countries, it is said.

The Dominion delegates heartily concur in the view of the British delegation that the question of the equality of treatment of all nationalities throughout the world, is not a matter for the league of nations. A prominent Australian expressed the opinion that the commonwealth was not prejudiced against the Japanese, but had a great admiration for them. Nevertheless, Australians believed that it would be better for the future of the world if each race should develop along its own distinctive lines.

The chief consideration was the industrial one. Australia aimed at building up in the most rapid manner an all British population of over 15,000,000. Australia's chief attraction was its high wages and pleasant industrial conditions. The Asiatic worker, as known in Australia, was a cheap worker, therefore, if they opened the doors to Asiatic immigration, they automatically closed it to Europeans. A Canadian delegate stated the question of immigration must be settled individually by each country. Canada hitherto had no complaint regarding Japanese in Canada. Their immigration was limited and only a few hundred were admitted yearly.

We are also glad to see the face of Rev. Pike, who has come also from Chicago to his farm in the Bow Valley.

F. E. Pobst has been away with Dan Woodward on a trip to Wenatchee, Wash. We are glad to hear that encouraging reports on Mr. Woodward's health have been received.

It is hardly time to look and listen for the birds to announce the approach of spring in these last days of winter, but we have a sign almost as sure in the return of friends who have been away all winter.

We are certainly glad to welcome back the Rev. T. A. Eisenbise who with his family has been spending the winter in Chicago. The remaining members of the family are expected to arrive in the course of a few weeks. Mr. Eisenbise has already been put to work as Sunday school superintendent.

Miss Elva Shatto was in to a small party Sunday afternoon. The invited guests, who were connected with a literary production, were Mrs. Beagle, the Misses Culp and Beagle, and Elmer Hammer, Chris Ferguson, Russell Culp, Jack Beagle and Don Beagle. Dinner and a pleasant afternoon were spent.

The progress toward the new school is slow but steady. The board of trustees has been organized and L. S. Shatto elected chairman. J. H. Brubaker, who was appointed for the Buffalo Hill district, was chosen secretary-treasurer. Plans submitted by several architects have been examined and a selection should soon be made.

Many farmers made use of the fine sleighing to haul feed and seed for the spring work which may open up soon. To avoid the long trip around by the grade and bridge several used the short cut across the ice and thus saved eight or ten miles. The sleighing where the roads were broken was very fine, but the recent fine weather has put a stop to all sleighing.

A very pleasant surprise was occasioned by the return of Mack Lyle, who taught the local school last year. After spending a few months in the U. S. navy, he has been relieved from active duty and could not resist the attraction to this valley. His many friends, both young and small, wish him every success and hope to see him located in this community. He has brought back a magic penny trick which is worth seeing.

In the United States the retail stores have helped greatly in the war savings stamp campaign. A report recently issued shows that $2,589,051 worth of stamps have been sold by the department and retail stores of New York city, 1,800 of which placed their services at the disposal of the war savings committee. R. H. Macey & Co. led with sales totalling $539,769, John Wannamaker's came second with $174,586. The retail stores in Canada may also render a very valuable service in this way, and some have already rendered it. In St. John, N.B., 305 stores are selling these stamps and in London, Ont., over 200.

To Organize Gleichen G. W. V. A. Branch

Saturday Night, March 29th

Sergt. Jack W. Moss at the request of a number of returned soldiers is busy organizing a branch of the G. W. V. A. for Gleichen and he already has a long list of names of men who have agreed to join here. He asks that all interested write or give him their names. A meeting for organization purposes is called for Saturday night, March 29th, in the Town Hall, when a good crowd is expected to attend. It is figured fully 100 members will join this branch. The big advantage of a local branch is that the men will receive here daily all the information the same as at Calgary concerning the land, etc., and can have many social gatherings.

After the organization The Call invites all the returned men to partake of light refreshments at our Palace.

An ozonogram from Cluny says: One of fortunate farmers from the land of the thistle, who owns land valued at 65 an acre, was overheard discussing dinner with his young wife. She might go to the white man's restaurant while he saved 6 cents by eating with the Chink—that's thrift, eh? Eavesdropper.

Steele Samson of Cluny has returned from a visit to Banff, during which he attended the winter carnival. For several years he held the championship of the Pacific coast for roller skating speed and also was good at ski jumping, so naturally was much interested in the events at Banff. But a 140-foot ski jump beat his record considerably.

J. F. Daniels, experienced painter and paper hanger, will be ready to do your work after the first week in April, having had 15 years experience in Ontario. All work guaranteed and prices reasonable. Estimates given and contracts taken in town or country. Work solicited. Leave orders at Brown's Transfer.

THE COMLYN ALIBI

— BY — HEADON HILL

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED
London, Melbourne, and Toronto

"Can't you stretch a point, Welton?" pleaded Kenyon. "It is the marriage of this misguided girl to a wrong 'un who in a few days at most must be arrested for murder, and convicted, if I know my trade, that I am out to prevent. Can't you stretch a point?"

Sir Savile's beautiful false teeth had another go at his grey moustache. Then he rose with a hint of dismissal.

"I will do this for you, Kenyon," he said. "Smash the first alibi by convincing me that Sir Anthony West was the villain of the motoring episode, and if, in the meanwhile, I find that 17 Segur Road, harbors known criminals, I will relax the rules in the matter of the second alibi. I will send a couple of my best men up there at once. Will that suit you?"

"Let us have it clear," Kenyon persisted. "If I come back to you with the first alibi smashed and your officers report badly of 17 Segur Road, you will advise Morgan's prompt arrest? That is good enough. I shall try to see you before you leave for the day."

"And if I have left when you come back you can get me on the phone at my house at Surbiton. Good luck!" On the Embankment Kenyon hailed a taxi and drove to Paddington, where the misfortune that was to be his lot through that strenuous day began to dog his steps. A train for Slough had just left the terminus; the next would not start for nearly an hour. The loss of this precious time at the outset would make it doubtful whether he could perform his task so as to catch Sir Savile before he left the Yard.

And when he reached the police station at Slough at last he found in the officer who had handled the motor case a none too enthusiastic ally. He was only sullenly respectful, and plainly disliked the idea of having the conviction he had obtained meddled with and possibly upset. On Kenyon diplomatically explaining to him in part the serious case in the background, pointing out that the kudos attaching to a successful police trap would pale beside the importance of being a witness in a first class murder trial, he thawed a little. But this was discounted by the fact that the inspector—Taplin was his name—not knowing what was expected of him, was in uniform. He had to change into plain clothes before he could accompany Kenyon to London, and he lived a mile from the police station. As a result of these delays it was five o'clock when Kenyon and his companion arrived at Paddington.

The former made good use of the half hour in the train and of the drive to Bury street, assuring himself by Taplin's description of the motorist and of the lady in the car that Laura Gaspard's story was to be relied on. But would there be time to set the legard wheels of justice moving before the tragedy foretold by the chemist's shop at St. Brannock's materialized? So much time had been lost already that Sir Savile Weldon's further co-operation could hardly be expected that day.

At Sir Anthony's lodgings there was another set back. The sedate ex-

butler who was Tony's landlord waxed confidential on recognizing Kenyon as his lodger's intimate friend. "No, sir," he responded to the eager inquiry. "Sir Anthony isn't in, and I can't say where you will find him. Maybe he's at one of his clubs, but more likely he's gone racing. He went out about noon, taking his race glasses, and there a meeting to day at Kempton, I think. Between you and me, sir, I am anxious about Sir Anthony. He's going wide, sir—very wide, if I may, put it so. You know what I mean."

"He will come back to dress for the evening," said Kenyon, the whole of his day's work beginning to crumble. "It doesn't follow, sir. He may and he may not. He keeps evening things at his club and more often changes there than here. Sometimes, nowadays, he doesn't change at all. Goes to a music hall or somewhere where that doesn't count."

"I see," said Kenyon. "Well, I must try and catch him later."

He returned to the taxi, whence the Slough inspector had studied the interview with bulging eyes and pricking ears.

"Nothing doing here yet," he said. "Sir Anthony is not at home. We will now go to my club, to which he also belongs, in the hope of finding him. Anyhow I am expecting a telegram there."

Here at least there was a definite result. The club was but three minutes away. Sir Anthony West, the hall porter affirmed, was not in the club, but he produced the telegram.

It had been handed in at Comlyn that morning and was from the Reverend Laurence Clegg. It ran:

"Your letter posted at St. Brannock's received. Have had notice to perform ceremony tomorrow at noon."

CHAPTER XXIX A Lurid Night

The curate's telegram filled Kenyon with dismay. It was now past six, and the progress he had made in smashing the first alibi was limited to fetching Inspector Taplin to London. Tony West seemed to have vanished, and well he knew the utility of hunting that erratic scapegrace in his innumerable haunts. Yet, Scotland Yard, as personified by Sir Savile Weldon, would not move till Tony had been found and shown to have impersonated Morgan at the Slough police court. And the marriage, which would blight, or more probably destroy, Mavis Comlyn's life was set to take place at noon next day in Cornwall.

Kenyon calculated that if he caught the midnight train, armed with full powers from Scotland Yard, he might just arrive in time for the ceremony, trusting to luck to prevent it. But those full powers would not be at his disposal till he had brought Inspector Taplin face to face with Sir Anthony West. And that exigency had resolved itself into searching for a needle in a haystack.

Even now this good fighter did not despair. Sir Savile was to be reached by telephone, and Tony might still be run to earth in time for a rush westwards by the night mail.

"Sir Anthony is not in the club," he said, rejoicing the expectant Taplin in the cab. "We will try them, and then go back to his lodgings."

The program was carried out without success. The other clubs were drawn blank, as well as several resorts at which their quarry might have dropped in on returning from the races, but Sir Anthony was at none of these places. At nine o'clock Taplin, frankly confessed to hunger and thirst, and Kenyon realized that he was in the same case. Selecting a restaurant, at which Tony sometimes dined, Kenyon fed his colleague and himself, keeping an eye on the door. Tony did not appear, but the meal did them both good, and perhaps it was responsible for Kenyon's inspiration. He glanced at his companion, Inspector Taplin, of the Bucks police, divested of the abominable ill-cut plain clothes he was wearing, would be quite a personable fellow.

"Look here, Taplin," he said. "If I can find a suit of dress clothes to fit you I think we can work this identification. No matter where Sir Anthony has been all day I have a pretty shrewd notion where he will turn up presently. Finish your coffee and come along."

At a wardrobe dealer's near by the police officer was transformed into a passable imitation of a country gentleman "doing the town," and then Kenyon paid a flying visit to his chambers and got into his own dress clothes. The next move was a final call at Sir Anthony's lodgings, only to be met with the same answer. Sir Anthony was not in and he had not been back since his departure at midday. Harking back to the club where the young baronet kept his spare change, Kenyon was still pursued by bad luck. There was no news of his elusive friend. He glanced at his watch. It was five minutes to twelve—too late to catch the midnight express. His last chance of reaching Comlyn before the hour set for the wedding was gone.

But if he could supply Sir Savile with a reasonable pretext for sending the three telegrams and telephones, and he fell back on the folom hope for which he had made provision.

"We will change our tactics," he said to his partner in the chase. "Instead of hunting Sir Anthony we will allow him to hunt us. I know a house where he is fairly certain to turn up between now and two in the morning. I am going to take you to a haunt of gilded vice, Taplin—not in your usual capacity as an upholder of law, but as a dissolute breaker of it. I will show you life, Taplin, as it is lived in this west-end muck-heap, if I may use the phrase about a resort which I frequent myself. It will be a useful experience for you when duty calls you to raid the gambling dens in Slough."

Horried and indignant, the Bucks inspector nearly fell out of the cab. "Me as a breaker of the law, sir!" he faltered his protest. "And we don't have no gambling hells in Slough."

Kenyon began to enjoy himself.

NURSES ADVISE

Zam-Buk, because they have proved that it does what is claimed for it. Miss E. L. Dorey, graduate nurse, of 3220 Michigan Ave., Chicago, says: "I have a patient who suffered terribly with piles. Zam-Buk is the only remedy that gave her relief."

"I have used Zam-Buk myself for the same ailment, also for sores and burns, and have the greatest confidence in it."

Zam-Buk

His cynical sense of humor came to his aid in quelling the fatigue of the strenuous day. Whatever happened he would get some fun out of his provincial colleague.

"You mustn't be too straight-laced, Taplin," he rejoined. "If you break the law tonight you will have the consolation that you are doing it in order to uphold the law—later on."

He proposed to introduce you as my friend, Lord Burgulow. And here are five sovereigns, with which you can tempt fortune or not, as you please."

The bait of posing as a peer took, and it was a comical and deeply interested country policeman who followed Kenyon into the house in Brown Street. Louis Gaspard was in the hall and at once came forward on seeing one of his regular clients accompanied by a stranger. The title, backed by Kenyon's introduction, soon made "Lord Burgulow" free of the guild, and Gaspard led the way up to the double drawing room on the first floor. Kenyon judged from the man's manner that neither Laura or Morgan had been here, he had been informed of his masquerade at Comlyn.

"Been out of town, have you not, Mr. Kenyon? I missed you all last week," he said, as they mounted the stairs.

"Yes, I am only up for one night," was the reply. "Miss Gaspard is well, I hope?"

"She was when I saw her last," Laura's father stroked his "imperial" rather dubiously. "She went into the country for the week end, and is—er—prolonging her stay."

Kenyon smiled wickedly. The ways of the underworld always amused him. This well-dressed, callous rascal had not the faintest idea where his daughter was, yet he was ready with a glib and perfectly true answer like that. He would probably have made it just the same if he had been aware that she was hiding in the ancient wreck under the cliffs at Comlyn with her life threatened by the arch-villain whose servant he was.

The gambling room was nearly empty, though it soon began to fill up with habitués who had come on from supper at restaurants or from private parties. As the gorgeous finkies ushered in the jewel-laden decoyees, women, and the beautifully groomed men with lack-lustre eyes, the provincial policeman gasped for breath under the shock to his innate modesty and sturdy radicalism. Kenyon feared that he would give himself away, and abstained from introducing his friend to the acquaintances who greeted him.

The fictitious title had served its turn in gaining Inspector Taplin the entrance. He dared not strain it further—with people who knew their peerage by rote.

"Back up, man!" he whispered to his colleague. "Don't look so damned frightened—even if you haven't got anything like 'em at Slough."

"Is—Sir Anthony West likely to be long?" murmured the outraged policeman, his astounded gaze resting on the prominent charms of an unattractive, cigarette-smoking duchess, who greeted him.

"God knows," said Kenyon irritably. The question had brought him back to the problem: How was he to prevent the marriage of Mavis Comlyn to Jasper Morgan at noon tomorrow, three hundred miles away? How was that to be accomplished when it was now one o'clock in the morning?

May Lift Financial Blockade

Neutral Money Markets Will Be Opened to Germany

Paris. — The financial blockade against Germany is expected to be lifted as a result of negotiations going on at Brussels. This blockade was applied at the same time as the commercial blockade, all neutral money centres being informed that any loans to Germany would result in the termination of their financial relations with the allies.

Neutral bankers furnishing funds to Germany were similarly black-listed, and the result has been virtually shut out Germany from the money markets of the world. By raising the blockade, neutral money markets will be opened to Germany as a means of obtaining loans for payments for food. The Scandinavian countries, particularly Denmark, are said to have such exceptionally large resources, that further importations of gold have been prohibited. These large resources will be opened to Germany by the lifting of the financial blockade.

Alberta's Dairy Output

Edmonton, Alta. — With a total of $27,500,000 worth of dairy products in 1918, Alberta leads the western provinces in this branch of farm production. This is an increase of about 30 per cent. over 1917.

Building Codes Result in Waste

Should Be So Made That It Can Be Revised

Probably the most tremendous waste in building construction is involuntary and due to laws regulating building construction existing in the form of state and municipal codes, says the American Architect. Efforts must be made, the article says, to correct these involuntary wastes.

"The preparation and enactment of building codes," the article says, "is generally a slow process, being usually in the hands of commissions or committees appointed for that purpose. The personnel of these committees is often unfortunate, being dictated by political or private interests or compounded of too many honest and well intentioned persons whose competency based on broad experience and real practical knowledge is questionable."

"The code should contain only the minimum requirements that are necessary to insure that a building is structurally safe and sanitary, with adequate provision for fire-prevention and safety to life. Following antiquated precedents, most codes are specifications in effect, long winded and often contradictory in their provisions. It seems ridiculous that a law should describe, in minute and verbose detail, how mortar should be mixed or shingles laid. These things are within the province of the architect's activities, and belong in his plans and specifications which are always subject to the approval of the building departments."

"A code should be so made that it can be revised as fast as progress in building construction takes place."

"A city which has an improper building code is handicapped and its growth hindered by the burden of useless costs incorporated in building construction. The intelligent investor in such projects will locate in such cities that make it possible for him to secure an adequate return for his investments to which every investor is entitled. It needs no argument to substantiate the fact that the state of the building industry in any community is the index of its prosperity. If then behooves those who have the interests of the industry at heart, architects, engineers, contractors, material producers, realtors and citizens generally, to make the proper revision of building codes now the first order of business."

Alberta Coal Possibilities

Local coal operators estimate that $10,000,000 are sent out of western Canada annually for Pennsylvania coal, which might be supplied by Alberta mines if a revision of the freight rates could be secured and other difficulties adjusted. The Alberta bureau of industrial research is asked to take up this problem, and if a solution is found, Alberta mines will have a market for 2,000,000 tons more coal annually.

Peace River Immigration

Has Commenced Several Weeks Earlier Than Usual

Edmonton, Alta. — Immigration into the Peace river and Grande Prairie countries has commenced this year several weeks earlier than usual. An advance party of settlers representing an initial instalment of prospective farmers from the western states comprised the party making the first spring trek. Some of these settlers have already bought land in the north; others are land hunters on their way to seek desirable locations. None of them are homesteaders, it being their intention to buy farm sites on business terms. It is expected that these first arrivals will be followed by many more during the spring and summer.

Admired Princess Patricias

Fine Body of Men and Appearances Were Not Deceptive

Halifax. — Major-Gen. Sir Frederick B. Maurice, K.C.M.G., C.B., who was a passenger on the Carmania, has come over for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in New York. Gen. Maurice stated he was glad of the opportunity of coming with the Carmania, and especially with the Princess Patricias, which happened to be the first Canadian battalion with which he had anything to do. He saw them first at Winchester and admired them greatly. On January 8, 1915, when they went into line, it was he who had reconnoitred their position. He had impressed him as being an excellently fine body of men and appearances were not deceptive.

Discussing Col. Peck's statement in the house, Gen. Maurice said he had not personally known of any unit in the British army which had revolted during the period of war. He thought the body of men Col. Peck had reference to were a collection of drafts, stationed at Etaples in the autumn of 1917, and that no complete unit was involved. In any event the trouble was very short lived.

Turning to the subject of the peace conference, the general, who has come immediately from Paris, said that the rumors of disagreement were due to a greater extent to people outside the conference than to those actually taking part in the proceedings. He personally thought the members were co-operating in a wonderful way and making every possible sacrifice for the ideal they all had in mind.

Russia Wants to Decide Boundaries

Recognition Is Sought for the de Facto Governments

Paris. — The Russian committee in Paris submitted to the peace conference a communication signed by Sergius Sazonov, foreign minister of the Omsk government; Prince Lvoff, former premier; Nicholas Tschakovsky, president of the provisional government of North Russia; and Basile Maklakoff, ambassador to France. The communication asked the peace conference to adopt resolutions declaring all questions concerning the boundaries of Russia, as they existed in 1914, excepting Poland, shall not be decided without the consent of the Russian people.

The communication also requests that resolutions relating to the status of nationalities situated within Russia shall not be decided without the approval of the Russian peoples. The committee asks that the peace conference assist the various nationalities to organize anarchy by providing a provisional regime to meet financial, economic and military needs. For this purpose recognition is sought for the de facto governments which the committee says have been inspired by democratic principles and supported by their populations.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste, and it thoroughly cleanses the little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue. Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Hurrah! How's This

Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poisoning, which is needless to say. A Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 30, REVIEW—GOD'S HAND IN A NATION'S LIFE

Since Israel was a theocratic nation, perhaps the best method of review will be to trace God's hand in that nation's life. Israel was led, fed, clothed and disciplined by God.

Lesson 1. God's hand is clearly discernible in the experiences of Israel in Egypt. Israel was to be the religious teacher of the world, therefore the nation must sojourn in Egypt the most advanced in learning of any nation at that time. In order that Moses the great lawgiver, might be equipped with the best possible education, God used Pharaoh to oppress the people. This oppression served a threefold purpose: (1) It served the testimony to the Egyptian nation that the living God was the God of Israel. The more they oppressed them, the more they multiplied. (2) It served a beneficent purpose in bringing the nation into its own. It required the crucible of suffering to bring humanity into its own. (3) It made the nation willing to leave Egypt and go to Canaan, the promised land. Had not the hand of oppression been upon them they would have chosen to remain in Goshen.

Lesson 2. When Israel was ready to go to Canaan God had a leader ready for the difficult task. His parentage, education at his mother's knee and at Pharaoh's court, and communication with God in the desert of Midian had equipped him for this work.

Lesson 3. Though enslaved by a powerful nation, God undertook freedom for Israel, and by ten telling strokes—the plagues—he tore the shackles from their hands and set them free. The Passover is a memorial of that blessed deliverance.

Lesson 4. God opened the Red sea and made a path of safety for Israel to cross, but overwhelmed Pharaoh and his hosts in the sea.

Lesson 5. Israel bitterly complained when they faced the wilderness without food. God sent them manna and quails. The manna did not fail them until they came into Canaan.

Lesson 6. God sent Jethro to give needed counsel to Moses. The strength of Moses was about to break. God took one outside of the commonwealth of Israel and through him communicated the wisdom which Moses needed to save him from collapse through overwork.

Lesson 7. At Sinai Israel is organized into a nation, and the ten commandments are given as their constitution. In this constitution is clearly set forth man's duty to God and his obligation to his fellow men.

Lesson 8. God's hand is seen in his burning anger against the nation for turning away from him to worship the golden calf. He is a jealous God; he will not tolerate a rival.

Lesson 9. Through unbelief the spies are sent to search out Canaan. When they were urged to take possession of the land according to God's promise they rebelled. Because of this failure God caused them to wander in the wilderness for 38 years.

Lesson 10. When God's disciplinary measures had run their course the people were back again upon the borders of Canaan. Joshua was chosen by God to lead the people, as Moses' time to depart had come.

Lesson 11. In the cities of refuge God provided that revenge should not take the place of justice.

Lesson 12. Before Joshua's death God through him set forth the conditions upon which the nation's welfare could be maintained, namely, whole hearted obedience to God and separation from their wicked neighbors.

THOUGHT -- ACTION

THE lapse of time between thought and action measures the magnitude of success. Failure is often due to procrastination. We have from time to time informed our clients of certain important developments on the Davidson property which have since favorably affected the price of the stock.
 A strike made several days ago of a rich ore body on the 500-foot level of the Davidson warrants our advising immediate purchase—pending a detailed statement by the Davidson management, dealing with exact size and values of the find.
 We have information of such a nature, however, that we do not hesitate advising immediate purchase of Davidson stock.

Riots Ended Socialist Movement

Secretary of Winnipeg Party Fled to Minneapolis

Winnipeg, Man. — The Winnipeg Socialist party has "officially" ceased to exist as an organization, according to the statement made by Gus Blumenberg, former leader of the ultra radicals, who bore a closer resemblance to the Russian Bolsheviks. The riots engineered a few weeks ago by returned soldiers who objected to the expounding of Bolshevik doctrines on the market square effectually put the quietus on the Socialist movement in this city. According to Mr. Blumenberg, the secretary of his organization fled to Minneapolis, Minnesota, when the riots occurred, and his resignation has since been received from that city. "We have no secretary, we have no club rooms, we have no membership, so we have no party," declared Blumenberg.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses more power in concentrated form than one hundred times the quantity of many unguents. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

To Erect Exhibition Buildings

Calgary, Alta. — The industrial exhibition is about to commence buildings at Victoria park. The buildings to be erected this year will be a cement grandstand, seating eight thousand people, costing approximately $80,000, and a fireproof cattle barn and sale ring, seating about eighteen hundred people under the same roof as the cattle stable. The cattle barn will likely accommodate between two and three hundred head.

 London. — The establishment of wireless telephony between Ireland and Canada is announced by the Marconi company.

Sinn Feiner Escapes

Dublin. — Another Sinn Fein member of the house of commons, R. C. Barton, representing West Wicklow, has escaped from Mount Joy prison, in Dublin. The warders found a dummy in his bed and the window bar sawed through. Mr. Barton is a large land owner. He formerly was an officer in the Dublin Fusiliers, but quit the army and joined the Sinn Feiners.

Protected by Machine Guns

Berlin. — The diet at Munich was opened to the accompaniment of a strong military display, according to Munich dispatches to the Zeitung Am Mittag. All the entrances to the building were strongly guarded and machine guns were posted on the roof. Militia and police were distributed throughout the house.

The deputies and the newspaper men were searched for weapons before they were allowed to enter. No one was allowed in the galleries, except the press gallery.
